This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. COMPILER'S NOTICE.

AFTER the most diligent search there is lack of much desired information concerning many of our alumni. The compiler regrets that about many graduates of the college he is able to say so little; and in most cases the want of knowledge is concerning the men about whom the readers of this book most desire to learn. It is the classmate who has been lost sight of that we most wish to know about. But while the compiler appreciates and regrets the defects in this catalogue, he trusts its very faults will stimulate all persons who have information of interest concerning any alumnus, or who discover errors herein, to communicate with him immediately that omissions may be supplied and errors corrected in subsequent editions.

ABBREVIATIONS have been avoided as far as possible and when used are thought to be self-explanatory. The asterisk (*) is used to mark the names of the dead. An interrogation mark (?) is used to express doubt and to request information.

PRESIDENTS.

REV. JEREMIAH ATWATER, D. D.

Appointed, 1800; resigned, 1809; died, 1858.

Dr. Atwater, the first President of Middlebury College, was born at New Haven, Conn., in 1774. He graduated at Yale College in 1793, was the youngest of his class and distinguished himself by his scholarly attainments. He was tutor at Yale from 1795 to 1799, when he was appointed Principal of Addison County Grammar School on the recommendation of Dr. Dwight, then President of Yale College. In 1800 he was appointed President of Middlebury College. He continued to act, however, as Principal of the Grammar School until 1805. Under President Atwater's administration the College grew and prospered. In 1809 he resigned his office and accepted a similar position in Dickinson College at Carlisle, Pa. After his resignation of the presidency of Dickinson in 1815 he returned to New Haven and established his residence there. His degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred by the University of Pennsylvania. While residing in Middlebury, he was married to Clarissa, daughter of Rev. Eleazer Storrs, who died at New Haven in 1834. He subsequently married Mrs. Susan Barnes, whom he survived four years. Doctor Atwater continued to reside at New Haven until his death, July 29, 1858.

REV. HENRY DAVIS, D. D.

Appointed, 1809; resigned, 1817; died, 1852.

Rev. Henry Davis, D. D., was born in East Hampton, N. Y., in 1771. His ancestors came from Kidderminster, England, and were parishioners of Richard Baxter. He prepared for college at Clinton Academy, and graduated at Yale in 1796. He immediately accepted a tutorship at Williams College, which he held till 1798. He then entered upon the study of theology at Somers, Conn., with Dr. Charles Backus, who also had the training of Dr. Woods of Andover and President Moore of Amherst. In about six months he was licensed to preach by the Association of Tolland County, and soon after was appointed tutor in Yale, where he remained till 1803. In 1806 he was called to the professorship of Greek in Union College. Three years after, upon the retirement of Dr. Atwater, he was elected President of Middlebury College and was ordained at the time of his inauguration. Later the degree of D. D. was conferred upon him by Union College and again the Greek professorship of that institution was offered him, which he declined. Later he declined the presidency of Yale College. In 1817 he was elected President of Hamilton College. This position he held till 1833. He was President of Middlebury from 1809 to 1817. Dr. Davis was especially active in the establishment of Auburn Theological Seminary and the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. He died at Clinton, N. Y., in 1852.

REV. JOSHUA BATES, S. T. D.

Appointed, 1818; retired, 1839; died, 1854.

Rev. Joshua Bates was born at Cohasset, Mass., March 20, 1776. His early boyhood was divided between farm labor or attendance on a country store and the ordinary schools of his neighborhood. It was not till the age of seventeen that he began his classical studies with the parish pastor and not till twenty that, after many interruptions, he was fitted for college. Having carried on the studies of the freshman year while teaching a select school, he entered Harvard College as a sophomore and graduated with highest honors in the class of 1800. The next year he taught in Phillips Andover Academy, and the next was a student of theology under Rev. Jonathan French, of Andover, the Theological Seminary not being opened till four years later. Licensed in 1802, on March 16, 1803, he was ordained and installed over the First Church and Parish in Dedham, Mass., as colleague with the Rev. Jason Haven. Mr. Haven died in about two months, leaving him sole tenant of the pastoral office, which he occupied for fifteen years. On the 18th of March, 1818, he was inaugurated President of Middlebury College. His administration proved honorable, energetic and wise and the result of his efforts, both as an educator and a man of affairs, was lasting. It had been his intention to retire from the presidency at the age of sixty. Circumstances, however, made it advisable that he should delay the execution of his purpose for three years, and he remained in office until after the Commencement of 1839. Visiting Washington immediately after his resignation, he was elected chaplain of the House of Representatives and acted in that capacity during the long session of the twenty-sixth Congress. He settled in Dudley, Mass., in 1843, where a pastorate of ten years was ended by his death, Jan. 14, 1854.

REV. BENJAMIN LABAREE, D. D., LL.D.

Appointed, 1840; resigned, 1866; died, 1883.

He was the son of Benjamin and Hannah (Farwell) Labaree, born in Charlestown, N. H., 1801, June 3. He studied at Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., graduated at Dartmouth College 1828, and at Andover Theological seminary 1831, and was ordained by the Presbytery of Newburyport, at Bradford, Mass., Sept. 26, 1831. Before entering the Academy he had been a teacher in North Carolina, and after his Seminary course he was sent out by the American Education Society to make a tour through the region south-west of Ohio to enlist young men for the ministry. Soon after, in September, 1831, he accepted a position as head teacher in a Manual Labor School at Spring Hill, Tenn., where he resided till 1836. During the last four years of this period he was connected with Jackson College, Columbia, Tenn.—as Professor of ancient languages, 1832–4,and as President, 1834–6. In the autumn of 1833 he was unanimously elected to the Presidency of Western Reserve (now Adelbert) College, and in 1835 to the chair of Sacred Rhetoric in Lane Theological Seminary; both of which calls he declined. From 1837 to 1840 he was Secretary of the Central American Education Society at New York City, from which position he was called to the Presidency of Middlebury College. His long administration of twenty-six years was an eminently successful one. The endowment of the College was largely increased by his earnest and self-sacrificing efforts. The new dormitory, "Starr Hall," was built in 1861, and promptly rebuilt after the fire of 1864. He commanded the esteem of his pupils for the thoroughness of his instruction, the firmness of his government, and his paternal care for their welfare. He labored for the religious interests of the college; sixty-three of his graduates became ministers. His devotion to his work led him to decline an invitation to a secretaryship of the American Board. After leaving Middlebury Dr. Labaree resided at Andover, Mass., 1867–69; was acting pastor at South Weymouth, Mass., 1869; resided at West Roxbury, Mass., 1870–75; at Charlestown, N. H., 1875–80; at Walpole, N. H., from 1880 till his death, Nov. 15, 1883. He was appointed lecturer on Moral Philosophy and International Law in Dartmouth College in 1871 and held the office until 1876. He lectured on these topics also at Middlebury College in 1874. He received the degree of D. D. from the University of Vermont in 1841; and the degree of LL.D. from Dartmouth College in 1864. Dr. Labaree was married in Dorchester, Mass., Sept. 29, 1831, to Eliza Paul Capen, who died in Spring Hill, Tenn., Oct. 12, 1835, leaving two sons, Benjamin and John C. Dr. Labaree was again married in 1836, Oct. 25, to Mrs. Susan (Freeman) Fairbank of Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Labaree and his late widow are buried at Charlestown, N. H.

REV. HARVEY DENISON KITCHEL, D. D.

Appointed, 1866; resigned, 1875.

President Kitchel was born at Whitehall, N. Y., February 3, 1812. His education was obtained by persistent efforts, and he graduated at Middlebury College with high honors in 1835. The fall after graduation he taught in Castleton Seminary, and soon after entered upon his studies at Andover Theological Seminary, where he remained until 1836, when he returned to Middlebury College as tutor. The next year he resumed his studies at Yale Theological Seminary and graduated at that institution in 1838. The next year he became pastor of the Congregational church in Thomaston, Conn., where he remained until 1848, when he was called to the First Congregational church in Detroit, Mich. His service with that church continued for sixteen years and there he confirmed his reputation as a vigorous thinker, an eloquent preacher, a strong man. In 1864 he accepted a call to the Plymouth church in Chicago, and thence in 1866, upon the retirement of President Labaree, he was called to the presidency of Middlebury College. Dr. Kitchel entered upon the duties of his office in the fullness of his powers and for nine years administered the affairs of the college with sound judgment and thorough efficiency. In the State at large he at once took his place as a man of commanding powers and wide influence, and into the immediate college life he entered with dignity and kindliness. He resigned the presidency of the college in 1875. In early life he married Miss Ann Sheldon of Rupert, Vt.; she became the mother of his six sons, who are all filling honorable and responsible positions. His second wife was Mrs. Ophelia Sayre of Brooklyn, N. Y. Not long before coming to Middlebury he married Mrs. Harriet Smith of Milwaukee, whose worth and grace added largely to the success of his administration. They are passing the last years of honored lives in their home at East Liverpool, Ohio.

REV. CALVIN BUTLER HULBERT, D. D.

Appointed, 1875; resigned, 1880.

President Hulbert was successor to President Kitchel, coming to the office after a vacancy in the presidency of a year, Professor W. H. Parker, senior professor, acting in the interim. Dr. Hulbert was born in Vermont, at East Sheldon, Oct. 18, 1827. His parents were Chauncey and Charlotte (Munsell) Hulbert. His preparation for college was made at the Academies at Bakersfield and Thetford. The experiences formerly so common to students, that of struggle for means of carrying on study, teaching in winter and working on the farm part of the summer, was not an exception in his case; he was compelled to make his own way. He entered Dartmouth College in 1849 and graduated in the class of 1853. Then followed three years of teaching, one at Swanton and two as Principal of the Franklin County Grammar School, St. Albans, Vt. In the Autumn of 1856 he entered the Theological Seminary at Andover, Mass., and graduated in 1859. On October 20 of the same year he was ordained and installed pastor of the Congregational church, New Haven, Vt. It was while pastor of this church in the vicinity of Middlebury that his official connection with the College began, he being in 1866 elected a member of the Board of Trustees. He evinced a warm and abiding interest in the prosperity of the college. After ten years' labor at New Haven he was dismissed from this place to enter upon the pastorate of the Bellville Avenue Congregational church, Newark, N. J., which he began Jan. 1, 1870. In May, 1872, he was installed pastor of the Second Congregational church of Bennington, Vt., continuing there until entering upon the duties of the presidency of Middlebury College, July, 1875. At Commencement time, 1880, he resigned the presidency and returned to the work of the gospel ministry. He was acting pastor of the Congregational church, Lyndonville, Vt., until 1886. In 1887 he entered upon the pastorate of the Congregational church in East Hardwick, Vt. In 1875 Dartmouth College conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity. Dr. Hulbert has written many papers and addresses of value, chiefly upon topics connected with education.

REV. CYRUS HAMLIN, D. D., LL.D.

Appointed, 1880; resigned, 1885.

His parents were Hon. Hannibal Hamlin and Susan Faulkner Hamlin, who resided in Waterford, Me. His father was teacher, member of the General Court of Massachusetts, and High Sheriff of Oxford County. Maine was at that time a province of Massachusetts. Cyrus Hamlin was born in Waterford, Me., January 5, 1811. Till he was 16 years old he lived on a farm, attending the common school a few weeks each year. January 1, 1827, he entered a jewelry and silversmith establishment in Portland, Me. Under the preaching of Payson he became a Christian and went to Bridgton Academy, May, 1829, to prepare for the ministry. He was graduated from Bowdoin College in 1834, and while in college exhibited the same mechanical skill and Christian courage which characterized his later life. In his sophomore year he built a steam engine under great difficulties, the first one constructed in Maine. He was graduated from Bangor Theological Seminary in 1837. His wish was to go into Central Africa as an explorer, but the A. B. C. F. M. sent him to Constantinople to establish a High School and to superintend education. From 1840 till 1860 he was principal of Bebek Seminary; and then became engaged in the work of founding Robert College and securing a building for it. Success crowned this last effort only after the most persistent and patient labor. He was its first President and continued in this office till 1877. During his residence at Constantinople he showed his great executive power in the successful introduction of industrial activities, especially bread-making, among the persecuted Armenians and in connection with the English hospital at Scutari during the Crimean war. From 1877 to 1880 he was Professor of Theology in Bangor Theological Seminary and from 1880 to 1885 was President of Middlebury College. Several thousand dollars were collected by him with which he fitted up new rooms for the library and added many books to it, arranged the cabinets in new and spacious quarters, greatly enlarged the amount of physical apparatus, and built a boarding hall. These remain as a constant reminder of his energy. He received the degree of D. D. from Bowdoin and Harvard and LL.D. from the University of New York and Bowdoin. He now resides in Lexington, Mass.

EZRA BRAINERD, LL.D.

Appointed pro tempore, 1885; elected, 1886.

Ezra Brainerd was born at St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 17, 1844. His early life was spent in that town, where he received his preparation for college. Through the influence of the Rev. Dr. J. E. Rankin he was led to enter Middlebury College in the autumn of 1860. He graduated in 1864, receiving the first honor, and was immediately appointed tutor for the following year. There is but one other instance in the history of the college of the appointment of a student to the position of instructor for the year succeeding his graduation. After serving for two years as tutor, Mr. Brainerd entered the Theological Seminary at Andover, Mass., where he graduated in 1868. He was at once appointed to the chair of Rhetoric and English Literature in Middlebury College, left vacant by the resignation of Professor Brainerd Kellogg, who had been called to the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute. He filled this position until 1880, when he was made Professor of Physics and Applied Mathematics. In 1885, upon the resignation of the Rev. Dr. Cyrus Hamlin, he was appointed temporary president by the Board of Trustees, and on April 17, 1886, he was elected eighth president of the college with which he had been so long connected. In addition to his regular college duties, President Brainerd has given much study to other departments of Natural Science, and has made several important contributions to the Botany and Geology of Vermont. In 1887, he was one of the three commissioners appointed to revise the school laws of the State of Vermont. In 1888, he received the degree of LL.D. from Ripon College, Wisconsin, and also from the University of Vermont.
